The Fresh Wisdom Ethos

We have covered much ground since we started. Perhaps you are one of the few who became a little frustrated with some of the lessons, wondering when we were going to get into the real meat. This is that point in time. Your patience is about to be rewarded.

This is a very important chapter because we are going to answer questions which may have been plaguing you:

- What is Freedom Technology's real agenda with Fresh Wisdom?
- If people do not generally have my best interests at heart, how is Freedom Technology any different - why should they just want to help someone for no reason?
- The authors slated religion in Chapter Error! Reference source not found., and yet they make mention of a Creator – what's up with that? How is it possible to teach me how to have a successful, happy life without promoting some type of religion or political belief?
- The authors have consistently said that not all people are equal, that some are sheep. And yet the U.S. Constitution says that “All men are created equal and are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights...”. The Bible also says that all men are created equal in God's eyes. Why should I believe the authors when it goes against what the U.S. Constitution and the Bible says?
- The authors have a selfish motive for promoting their particular philosophy of life – what is that motive?

These are all excellent questions, which we are not going to answer immediately, but by the end of this chapter you will have understood why these questions do not faze us in the least. In fact, the very fact that you may be asking these questions (as others have) prove to us that you are still enslaved by certain belief systems which are holding you back, and we still have some work to do to break them.

For those who found the previous chapters a little obvious, we are pleased you stuck with us and understood that we had to lay the foundations. We had to explain that everyone (even you, and yes, even us) have paradigms which have been conditioned into our thinking. Remember the first lesson with the picture of the old and young woman? Ten seconds of conditioning affected the way the composite picture was interpreted. A lifetime of conditioning affects our paradigm – our world view – or the way in which we interpret what's happening in the world around us.

In this chapter we are going to answer the questions above and explain our paradigm, which is built on empirically proven scientific means, not the myths and the ravings of 'gurus'. By the end of this chapter you will be able to fully judge whether the philosophy of Fresh Wisdom makes sense to you. Some of these teachings will be difficult for you to accept. If they are, it is not because the teachings are wrong (we will prove this to you) – it is because your existing paradigm is still limiting you. And we understand how difficult this may be to accept, hence the introductory foundation which we have been building since explaining paradigm shifts.

Basic Axioms

Before we explain our paradigm, let us list a number of givens that we have covered in earlier chapters, either directly or indirectly. If you cannot yet accept these givens, perhaps you should re-read the relevant chapter. You will have a difficult time accepting our paradigms if we cannot treat the following axioms as absolutely given and accepted – no further discussion required.

Axiom #1 – Reducing Controls

In order to become free, Fresh Thinkers greatly reduce the external controls placed on their life. They will not allow themselves to be controlled by anyone (including Freedom Technology and the authors of Fresh Wisdom). They recognize the various controlling tactics for what they are, and will not allow them to influence their life negatively. These people and institutions are referred to as Controlling Artists, or Con Artists. Fresh Thinkers understand that these Controlling Artists have a vested interest in trying to control them.

Axiom #2 – Avoid Con Artists

Con artists seek to maximize the volume of life's pleasures which flow their way, by conning money, energy, time and talent from other people. By bending the talents, energy and time of the mass of people to their will, such individuals and organizations seek to profit with minimum effort on their part. Fresh Thinkers understand this and avoid Con Artists.

Axiom #3 – Recognizing Illusions

Fresh Thinkers make it a lifelong task to continually unmask the illusions created by others. The extent to which they believe in one or more of the illusions is the extent to which they are still enslaved. The facets of life which are home to the greatest number of illusions are:

1. Health and Longevity
2. Relationships and Romantic Love
3. Religion
4. Finance, Money and Wealth Creation
5. Personal Freedom

There are, of course, many other minor illusions, but your knowledge of the five main categories of illusions will provide you with the information required to tackle the smaller and less significant ones. Remember – the illusions are the vehicles which people who want something from you use to extract your time, money and talents.

Axiom #4 – All Are Not Equal

Very few people will choose the path of freedom and unlimited personal power in their lives. In this respect, all are created equal in the options available to them, but not all make the same (equal) choices in life.

As Fresh Thinkers, we recognize this inequality, and will not attempt to convince the sheep of the value of this lifestyle. We realize this is an impossible and thankless task.

Axiom #5 – Altruism

True altruism does exist, but is so rare that it can be ignored for all intents and purposes. By true altruism, we mean an act which is entirely selfless with absolutely no pay-off of any description.

Altruistic acts do not always achieve a positive effect on humanity, as the help provided is often misguided and harmful.

Altruism is used by Con Artists to exploit your natural and normal human desire to assist others. They turn this desire to their benefit by getting you to sacrifice your time, money and talents to them by pretending to be needy, or pretending to act altruistically, while obtaining a secret pay-off.

Axiom #6 – Rules and Regulations

Fresh Thinkers live by their own set of rational, coherent and internally generated rules, which may, or may not agree with the externally imposed laws. Sometimes they will, sometimes they will not. They follow these regulations and accept full and total responsibility for their every action. They also accept the consequences on a strict cause and effect basis, if these actions happen to conflict with the law of the land at a particular time, and in a particular place. We have no opinion on the fairness of any particular law, since we know that all laws are more or less arbitrary and 'unfair'.

Example: When in a foreign country where the known penalty for smuggling drugs is death, then we would not be surprised at the penalty imposed if we were caught smuggling drugs.

Axiom #7 – Fairness

The world is, and always has been, an unfair place. Fresh Thinkers know this, and do not find it surprising. They do not squander their life-energies in an attempt to change this situation.

The statement "It is not fair!" comes only from the mouth of a sheep that is controlled by the law, and is whining because the rules are not tight enough. Someone has slipped through the net, and the sheep want the net closed.

Throughout history, innocent men and women have been imprisoned, tortured and beaten-up or killed by the state under various disguises - and it is still happening today. Is it fair? No. Is the law fair? No. Does a Fresh Thinker expect it to be fair? No.

Axiom #8 – Purpose

The uninitiated masses almost never know their real reasons for doing anything. The vast majority know almost nothing whatsoever about the mechanism of government, and yet they continue to vote and pay taxes. The vast majority know almost nothing whatsoever about Spiritual Truths, and yet they continue to support their chosen religion, without ever investigating other belief systems. Fresh Thinkers, in contrast, never accept anything without questioning and understanding it. They also understand that their life has a purpose, even though their purpose may not yet have been fully defined or understood.

Axiom #9 – Religion

Religions and cults are man-made inventions designed to allow an elitist priesthood to con value out of those that follow them. Fresh Thinkers do not blindly follow any man-made religion.

Axiom #10 – Morality

Conventional morals are purely influenced by the latitude and longitude at which you happen to find yourself, together with the date currently showing on your calendar. In other words, laws are applicable to the country you happen to be in at a specific time. It is likely that those laws were different in the past and do not currently apply to other locations. This means that conventional morality is based on arbitrary, man-made, fickle laws. The morals of a Fresh Thinker are not based on man-made laws but are instead internally generated, according to the Immutable Laws of Nature.

Axiom #11 – Responsibility

Responsibility for what happens in the life of a Fresh Thinker rests solely with that person. This is particularly true when known laws are transgressed, and we do not question the fairness or otherwise of the consequences.

Axiom #12 – Relationships

Successful relationships hinge upon a continued and approximately equal exchange of values between the partners. When an imbalance occurs a Fresh Thinker either addresses the imbalance or ends the relationship.

The Freedom Technology Mission Statement

Now that we have discussed and exposed many of the illusions the sheep are enslaved by, we are finally free to progress to the meat of Fresh Wisdom. At this point we are able to expose our reason for making this information available – our Mission Statement if you will.

Stimulate Creativity

We want to open eyes – to stimulate independent thought. We want every Fresh Thinker to think for themselves, unlike the sheep that are spoon-fed and hence indoctrinated.

Years of exposure to the media, and more recently the Internet, have stifled creative thought because of the lack of stimulating content. The books on best seller lists, the entertainment broadcast on TV, the ‘life-changing’ advice presented in glossy magazines are all merely rehashed fillers, providing no real mental stimulation. No wonder the sheep are in the state they are in.

Opposing Forces

We want to help Fresh Thinkers discover or become aware of the fact that there are 2 forces at work: positive and negative; light and darkness; love and life, hate and death; yin and yang. While this appears to be a statement of the obvious, we then wish to show how most people are subject to the negative force (no matter how enlightened they may think they are). And finally, we want to show how to turn fully and meaningfully from the negative force to the other.

Guilt

We want to make Fresh Thinkers aware of the amount of guilt that enslaves us all and how to deal with it. To some extent we have covered most of that in preceding chapters, but there is still more to come. We want to get this guilt cleared up once and for all, freeing us to higher levels of spiritual awareness and performance.

Purpose

We want to reveal the ultimate potential and purpose for each life. We want to prove empirically that there is not just a black hole of nothing at the end, but a significantly (mind-bogglingly) higher existence after this one, in another dimension. We are not referring to a dimension filled with aliens, shape-shifters and the like. We refer to that dimension as the Quantum Spectrum or E5, and we will explain this all in due course.

We want to enable motivated individuals to recognize that there is a Purpose to their individual life and that any effort exerted now will yield unimaginable rewards, making this present life meaningful to the extreme.

Provable Reality

We are fully aware of the multitude of already existing writings that cover similar material: Self Help Books, Spiritual Empowerment Books, and the list goes on. But we wish to demonstrate this (The Quantum Spectrum) empirically, by employing measurable and provable scientific means. In our view, the vast majority of writings on this subject to date are based upon myths and the ravings of self-proclaimed 'gurus', who achieve nothing more than give their readers mental constipation.

In Control

We want to free people from enslavement to traditions, systems and propaganda. The alternative is enlightenment, freedom, understanding and incredible power, in which they are in control of their own life and destiny. You have seen the results of some of this in previous chapters, with much more still to come.

Omega Point

We want to enable Fresh Thinkers to reach their own personal Omega Point of ultimate understanding of life, the Universe and beyond.

What We Are Not

We have introduced a number of new terms, and now might be an appropriate moment to set your mind at rest about what we are not trying to achieve.

We are not trying to control you (Axiom 1). You are free to draw your own conclusions about the material we present. We frequently challenge and remind you to listen for the ring of truth.

We are not Con Artists (Axiom 2). By the end of this chapter you will have zero doubt about our agenda, or our motivation for making this material available.

We are not presenting yet another illusion (Axiom 3). We will refer you to the empirical proof for anything that requires it (as supplemental reading, otherwise this manual would easily turn into 20 years of reading.)

We know that this material is not meant for everyone (Axiom 4), so we will never force you to accept anything. You are encouraged at all stages to critically analyze any theory we present.

We are not a charity, and nor are we presenting this material as an entirely selfless act (Axiom 5). We will explain the value exchange we are expecting soon.

We impose absolutely no rules and regulations on you (Axiom 6). You are free to lead your life exactly as you please. We would be surprised if your life did not change as a result of completing this manual, but we never dictate any specific action.

We are not trying to make the world a better place, or make it fairer (Axiom 7). This is an impossible task, and not one we would ever consider undertaking.

We will not define your life purpose (Axiom 8). What you choose to do with this material, and your life, is entirely up to you.

Although we will discuss many matters of a spiritual nature, we are not a religion. Nor are we a cult (Axiom 9). Both cults and religions extract time, talents and money from you under false pretenses. We will not insult your intelligence and destroy your life by doing the same.

We are not about to impose a moral code on you (Axiom 10). The moral code by which you choose to live your life is totally under your control.

The people behind Freedom Technology are not legal experts, medical professionals, ministers of religion, investment advisors or licensed counselors and shall not accept liability or responsibility to any person (Axiom 11). Therefore, you release Freedom Technology from any responsibility for any actions you take as a result of strategies you learn here. You agree that you are solely responsible for seeking the necessary professional advice before implementing any of the strategies we teach.

The concept of Freedom Technology is not easy to express in a succinct manner, an Elevator Speech, if you will. We hope however that the explanation of what we are not has cleared up any reservations you may have about continuing this journey with us.

The Basis of a World View

A consistent, stable, valid and workable World View should be able to provide reasonable and believable answers to at least 4 aspects:

1. How the Universe came about;
2. The nature and purpose of Man;
3. Good and Evil: How to resolve the inherent conflicts in the 'evil' Nature of Man with supposed 'goodness'. In other words, how to bridge the gap between the expected goodness of Man and the evidenced evil behavior so prevalent in society;
4. The Future: Are we to accept Nihilism (a black hole of nothingness) or is there an explanation of any existence after this dimension.

Before we explain our World View, we require a brief explanation of a few terms we are about to introduce.

The present dimension in which the material Universe exists consists of four dimensions:

1. Length,
2. Breadth,
3. Height and
4. Time.

All matter exists in this dimension at a particular point and time. Since there are 4 dimensions limiting all existence, we will refer to this dimension as E4.

The next dimension, in which Time is no longer a limiting factor (Eternity), and which scientists commonly refer to as the Quantum Spectrum, is therefore called E5.

This dimension is also called heaven by many religions (who do not understand the scientific basis of E5).

The Biblical World View

At this point we must ask you to hold judgment based on any preconceived religious (including atheist) beliefs you may or may not have. Remember that we are trying to break free from pre-implanted paradigms.

The Biblical World View is the only scientifically (empirically) provable, sustainable and viable World View that has no inconsistencies. It is for this reason that we have chosen the Biblical World View on which to base these premises. Note that these are not Christian, Catholic, Protestant or any other religion's World View – it is a Biblical World View, which can be defined as follows (answering the 4 aspects raised previously).

1. The Universe was created by an Outside-Of-This-System Initiator at a specific point and identifiable time, in keeping with known laws which are currently in use to determine things like space trajectories of interplanetary craft, microwave transmissions, etc.
2. The purpose for which Man was also created and put into this System is for training: Training in understanding of the Universe and dealing with the 2 forces of positive and negative that are inherent in the system, commonly called 'good' and 'evil'. An additional purpose is for future E5 Management Tasks - we will have specific jobs in the next dimension.
3. The solution for this good and evil or positive/negative conflict is provided by Initiator. The resolution of the problem of the existence of 'evil' is not achieved by Man, but supplied extraneously (from outside the system) by Initiator. Recognition of this is part of the training and comes for all at some point. For some it is given to them to understand now in the E4 and for the others, it will be given later in E5. In other words: all people will eventually understand fully, when (in Initiator's own time) their eyes are opened by Initiator (and no-one else, although humans can plant seeds).
4. The Future: There is another (provable) Dimension (E5) in which Time is not a limiting factor. All human beings do appear into this dimension – it is an inherent (automatic) outcome of the Created Order. This present order is merely an interim state of preparation; similar to the birth of a child after being nurtured in the womb (E4) and coming into the world (E5). It can also be equated with the symbolism of the classic book Jonathan Livingston Seagull, when, after slamming into a cliff face (symbolizing his death), he awakens in a new and higher dimension (E5).¹

To try and state this World View in a simpler manner:

1. The creation of the Universe is a neutral transaction;

2. Man's evil nature was introduced for spiritual training (negative transaction);
3. The solution to the problem of evil was supplied by Initiator (positive transaction);
4. Eternity (or the next dimension) is the achievement of the ultimate purpose for each individual life.

Unless and until an individual can adequately resolve all these issues, they are still in the process of maturing. This maturity is not actually and fully achieved by anyone until the E5 has materialized fully.

A brief outline of these 4 foundation elements:

1. The Universe was created at a definable time and operates according to determinable principles. It was established intact and did not come about as the result of a process over immeasurable lengths of time (evolution).
2. Man was introduced into the Creation (a fuller discussion of What Man Is, can be found in our publication *The Greatest Miracle of All*²). Into this inherently neutral state, the force of 'evil' was deliberately introduced as part of a training program for the development of character or moral ability. This moral aspect cannot be created. It inherently is a process. Initiator is the Trainer and is accomplishing this program with each individual at a different pace. Completion of (or graduation from) this training only occurs in E5.
3. The negative force has been neutralized by a one-time event of Initiator personally materializing into this dimension (E4), applying and demonstrating this new positive overpowering force, commonly called 'love'. Although this was a one-time event and accomplishment, the negative effects or 'evil' still continue in a controlled manner for training purposes, until the final phase, when it will be totally abolished. The 'evil' or negative force simply has a temporary purpose for training.
4. E4 has a definite end-point, at which time E5 will be introduced. Evil or the negative force and its effects do not exist there. Each and every individual who existed in E4 has a place and purpose in E5.

Response

We have just covered profound concepts, with far-reaching implications on your life. So the question is, what is your reaction to what we have just discussed? You either accepted it as obvious, rejected it outright or have mixed feelings of doubt and possible acceptance. If you are comfortable with the Biblical World View, you may wish to skip ahead to 'Why Did We Prepare This Manual?', the next section on page 10.

Fear, Uncertainty & Doubt

If you are reading this, you understandably have certain reservations about the Biblical World View. That is perfectly acceptable – a healthy dose of skepticism is always called for.

Let us ask a question.

Why could you accept some of the previous illusions we discussed as obvious? Why were you frustrated that we spent so much time discussing them when the illusion was perfectly clear to you? Did you know that some people have extreme difficulty accepting what you have already accepted as obvious?

Similarly, others have felt frustrated that we even discussed the Biblical World View at all – it is perfectly obvious to them.

The reason you could accept certain previous illusions as obvious is because you have seen sufficient evidence to know unequivocally that the illusion we presented was just that: an illusion. The fact that you had seen sufficient evidence was all you needed to identify each illusion.

So, the fact that you doubt the Biblical World View is because you have not yet seen sufficient evidence to convince you.

Or it could be that the contrary evidence you have seen came from a man-made belief system, which we have already accepted is one of the illusions.

Or it could be that Initiator has chosen to not reveal this understanding to you, yet. But it will be revealed to you. Either some time soon while in the E4, or when E5 arrives.

The Test

What you do next is entirely up to you.

You can choose to immediately reject our World View, the empirically proven Biblical World View, in which case the rest of this manual will not interest you in the slightest. Remember that not all people are equal, and we are not going to convince you to change your paradigm, unlike all other religions. We have planted the seed, and that is the only action we have been called on to take.

² www.freedomtechnology.org/resources/truth/

The other action you can take is to gather the required evidence to support this view.

We will not kid you – the task will not be easy. You are up against the negative force which has a vested interest in disproving the Biblical World View. You will come across mountains of material which appears to be scientifically accurate, and which will disprove the Biblical World View. You will have a challenge sifting fact from fiction. We know, because it is taken us a combined 80-person years to sift through what is available. It is not an easy task.

Or you can choose to blindly accept that our extensive research is sound and can be relied on.

We would not recommend this either. Axiom 1 states that you will not be controlled by anyone, including Freedom Technology. Axiom 11 states that you accept full responsibility for any actions you take. Blindly accepting the Biblical World View is abdicating responsibility to us. This is a form of enslavement, and we do not recommend you do so at all.

What we can recommend is that you apply the test of rationality. Spend the next few days thinking about the Biblical World View. Does it make sense? Could it provide answers to the confusing state of the world? Does it sound rational?

Re-read this chapter, believing that Initiator will provide you the understanding that has been promised. Perhaps this chapter or even the manual is an aid to understanding. We have also provided numerous Internet links to carefully selected articles on page Error! Bookmark not defined., which will assist in deciding whether the Biblical World View holds water.

You may also want to see our related publications:

- The Real Truth about Heaven
- The Real Truth about Who Will Be Saved: the Few or All
- For a bird's eye view of the meaning of life, see our publication: *The Greater Picture: Truth, Freedom and Omega Point.*³

We wish you clarity and understanding in this most important of life's journeys.

Why Did We Prepare This Manual?

Thus far we believe we have answered all but one of the questions we posed at the beginning of this chapter. The final question is "What is our motive for making this material available?"

Apart from those listed in our Mission Statement, an obvious motive is that we are obligated to explain the Biblical World View. We have introduced it in this chapter, and we will cover more of it in the next section on Metaphysical Truths. But for us the most exciting part about preparing this information is that we believe the significantly challenging process of preparing the manual and finding a publisher who would accept such controversial material, is part of our training for management tasks in the E5.

If that blows you away, you have no idea how excited we are about this concept. Ever woken up in the morning so happy that you have to pinch yourself to see if reality is real? It happens on a daily basis once you have grasped this concept.

There are a few further motives for making this material available, which we will explain now.

Community

Unless you have been wearing blinkers for the past few years, we are entering a tremulous period in time. Things are not as they seem.

Some are referring to this period of time as the End Times. Some are expecting World War Three to occur in the not too distant future. Others are expecting celestial bodies to impact earth, or major tectonic plate movements to cause massive and sustained earthquakes.

We share the general views of the doomsayers, except for the negative connotations. We firmly believe that, although we are entering possibly difficult times, they are also exciting times, and opportunities abound for those who are prepared.

At the end of this manual you will be invited to register your details with a rather unique group – an enlightened community. We currently have no specific plans for this community, although many ideas are being discussed. We have no doubt that a group of like minded contrarian thinkers could achieve spectacular things, and maybe even assist in saving lives when cataclysms start. And we have not even started talking about the Universe Management positions yet – that we will keep for a later chapter. We do not want to blow any fuses now.

Each of us in this community would like to count on the support of other Fresh Thinkers when the need arises, as the world slides ever lower into moral and spiritual stagnation.

We hope you feel the same.

Reciprocal Value Exchange

As you have seen, we frequently refer to other publications in the Freedom Technology arsenal of publications. These are information packs unlike anything you will find in bookstores today, and will make the usefulness of anything you have bought previously pale into insignificance.

We believe firmly in all the Axioms, but specifically for this discussion: Axiom 12, which states that “Successful relationships hinge upon a continued and approximately equal exchange of values between the partners. When an imbalance occurs Fresh Thinkers either address the imbalance or end the relationship.”

We are currently enjoying a relationship, even though we have not yet met in person. You have come to trust the information we are sharing, and we have come to trust that you will not arbitrarily share this information indiscriminately.

We are fully committed to over-delivering in any transaction we may enter into with you in the future. We would like nothing more than to develop a relationship with you, instead of simply providing you with this manual and then leaving you to your own devices.

But this concept becomes even more exciting, because we have a very real and profitable way of generating wealth for you. And it has nothing to do with drawing a salary, selling Multi-Level-Marketing products or any ‘money-making scheme’ you may have come across in the past.

In the next Wealth Creation section we will reveal to you how this unique method works, and what it means for you. We know you will like the idea.

Now that we have laid all our cards on the table, you are able to make a more informed decision about whether Fresh Wisdom and Freedom Technology can offer any value to you. We hope you are as excited as we are about where this could lead.

Can you see how each of the 5 Pillars of Essential Living all of a sudden take on a whole new meaning with our new paradigm of preparing us for management tasks of the Universe?

Relationships: Does your current relationship build on your Universal management skills, or is it holding you back and stifling you?

Health & Longevity: Does your current understanding of health & longevity prepare you for the exciting task of managing the Universe, where time has no meaning? Living to 120 all of a sudden sounds far more interesting than it might have earlier, because there are so many things to prepare ourselves for before we die. What an exciting concept.

Wealth Creation: Does your current understanding of ‘value creation’ vs. ‘value extraction’ limit your ability to really make a difference in this dimension, in preparation for the next? Business is not about making money, but about making a positive impact in the lives of those whom you have financial interaction with.

Metaphysical Truths: Can you see how your whole view of religion and spiritual matters takes on a whole new meaning. You will never again be concerned with the pathetic religious arguments most religious people waste their time with.

We will really be cranking up the heat in the second part of each of the 5 Pillars of Fulfilled Living. We think you will agree your patience with the groundwork material is about to be rewarded many times over.
